IRB JUNIOR WORLD RUGBY TROPHY 2014
MATCH FACTS

This year’s competition was closely fought:

- Eight or 50 per cent of the 16 matches had a points difference of 10 or fewer
- Six of the eight teams averaged between 22 and 28 points per game
- Five of the eight teams scored 10 or 11 tries

Despite such closeness, the detailed report that follows shows that there were noticeable differences between the shape of play adopted by the various teams. There was, for example, considerable difference between the number and rate of passing of the various teams.

Other tournament data showed:

- There were an average of 5.1 tries per game – an average that was over 25 per cent less than the 2013 tournament which, in turn, was 25 per cent less than 2012
- The try scoring rate was one every eight minutes
- More tries were scored by forwards than backs
- No team scored most of its tries in the first half
- 80 per cent of matches – or 12 out of 15 – were won by the team scoring the most tries. There was one draw
- The team with least possession won six of the 15 matches
- Lineout remained the most fruitful source of tries, leading to 36 per cent of all tries
- The second highest source of tries was tap penalties

- Almost two thirds of tries came from within the 22m line
- One third of tries contained no rucks or mauls
- One third of tries contained no passes

- Forty-one per cent of all penalties/free kicks were at the breakdown
- Average ball in play was 31m 16s (39 per cent)
JAPAN were crowned champions after winning three of their four matches:

- Together with Tonga they kicked the fewest penalty goals
